Category: computer-and-mathematical

This is a Candidate Pool - it means you are not applying for one position in particular. We will contact you based on your profile and experience when an opportunity arises.
At Thaloz, we are looking for Fullstack Javascript Developers for our variety of US Clients.

What you will do:

Build and maintain front-end and back-end experiences.

Update flows and components to ensure continued compliance with global regulations.

Assist in triaging and debugging of live issues.

Contribute to automated testing and code quality initiatives.

Partner closely with cross-functional partners in design and product.

Being willing and able to learn new technologies and programming languages when the need to do so arises

Requirements

Experience in building single page applications using React.

Strong understanding of modern CSS preferred.

6+ years of work experience in developing web applications.

Experience in developing production Node.js applications (high volume preferred).

Understanding of JavaScript application design and testing using frameworks.

Experience working with OpenAI API or high interest in learning.

Benefits

We believe that great work happens where people feel inspired and challenged. These are just a few things we offer to make this happen.

Compensation in US Dollars.

Full remote position - 100% work from home.

Referral program with economic rewards

Regular events and a shop where you can exchange coins for prizes (Thaloz Rewards).

English classes.

Online Workout sessions.

Thaloz house (co-working space and hostel in Montevideo, Uruguay where you can stay for free!)
